

Dunedin Facts

Founded as a religious settlement for Scots

Mostly settled by Australians from Victoria during the goldrush.

Became the biggest city in New Zealand.

Has many heritage buildings because of slow growth during the 20th century.

The Dunedin Botanic Garden is New Zealand's first botanic garden and holds the status of "Garden of International Significance".

The main 'industry' is education especially the University of Otago.

About Us

Exploring New Zealand is based in Port Chalmers and is owned and operated by Andrew Rutherford.

It is supported by Glenorchy Air which is based in Queenstown and is owned and operated by Janet and Robert Rutherford.

Andrew was born in Dunedin and attended school and University here. (B.A.)

We have been involved in tourism since 1992 when Glenorchy Air was founded

This is our second season of offering tours for cruise ship passengers in Dunedin.
